RICHARD CAVAZOS

Richard Cavazos is the owner and visionary behind Pride Floors & Construction, LLC a premier full service luxury retail floor covering company serving discerning homeowners throughout San Antonio and the Texas Hill Country. With over 30 years of experience in the flooring and construction industry, Richard is widely respected for his deep product knowledge, meticulous standards, and unwavering commitment to excellence.

Specializing in luxury hardwood flooring, Richard has developed a particular expertise in European oak, wide-plank woods, and custom flooring solutions designed to elevate high-end residences. His showroom experience is curated to guide clients through timeless materials, craftsmanship, and design choices that align with both architectural intent and lifestyle.

Faith and service are central to Richard's leadership and business philosophy. He believes that true success is built on integrity, stewardship, and honoring commitments—values reflected in every Pride Floors project. This servant-leader mindset has earned long-standing relationships with homeowners, designers, and builders who trust his word as much as his work.

Married to Andrea Cavazos, they share a strong commitment to family, faith, and community. When not working with clients, Richard enjoys investing in relationships and mentoring others in business and faith. Through Pride Floors, he continues to deliver not just beautiful floors—but a lasting legacy of trust, craftsmanship, and purpose.
